

The Words of Wisdom by Lao Tzu

I must form a balance between the world about me and the world
inside me.

- Tao Te Ching

The Words of Wisdom by Lao Tzu

¹
At the center of your being you have the answer; you know who you are and you know what you want.

²
If you look to others for fulfillment, you will never be truly fulfilled.

³
Nothing is softer or more flexible than water, yet nothing can resist it.

⁴
When you accept yourself, the whole world accepts you.

⁵
Care about what other people think and you will always be their prisoner.

⁶
Great acts are made up of small deeds.

43

The power of intuitive understanding will protect you from harm until the end of your day.

44

Always be on the lookout for ways to turn a problem into an opportunity for success.

45

If you realize that all things change, there is nothing you will try to hold on to.

46

If you would take, you must first give, this is the beginning of intelligence.

47

In dwelling, live close to the ground. In thinking, keep to the simple. In conflict, be fair and generous. In governing, don't try to control. In work, do what you enjoy. In family life, be completely present.

48

Knowing others is wisdom, knowing yourself is Enlightenment.

76

Be honest to those who are honest, and be also honest to those who are not honest. Thus honesty is attained .

77

The softest things in the world overcome the hardest things in the world.

78

When you are content to be simply yourself and don't compare or compete, everybody will respect you.

79

Just let go of your preferences, and everything will be perfectly clear.

80

If you realize that you have enough, you are truly rich.

81

Without stirring abroad, one can know the whole world; without looking out of the window one can see the way of heaven.
